Capt T. F. Peck, Commissioner of Agriculture, has issued a statement in behalf of the Nashville Fat stock Exposition in which he seeks to elicit the interest in the enterprise and in the cause of good stock rearing of the boys and girls clubs. The junior section will be a prominent feature of the enterprise and much valuable information on feeding and marketing of calves and pigs will be given out for the benefit of young and old, Capt Peck says.

A steady decrease in Confederate soldiers' pensions is noted at the office of the State Pension Board. A few years ago there were 7,000 names of veterans of the Lost Cause on the pension books and today the number is 5,651 with the indications of a further gradual lessening as time goes. Of the present list of pensioners 3,141 are widows of old soldiers. There are 99 negroes on the rolls, these being the remnant of the faithful slave body who followed their masters into the service of the cause of the South.

Gas masks as necessary features for the operation of an underground still were found by Federal Agent A. L. Blinkley in a raid in Davidson County. The raiding officer who took a large amount of whiskey and beer was compelled to use a flash light in exploring the subterranean joint which had been improvised from a natural cave. The gas masks were used by the operators supposedly to protect themselves from the fumes which had accumulated in the cave.

A big demand is reported in the Nashville market for hogs which are bringing better prices than in Chicago, St. Louis or other western markets. A market report says: "The undertone of the hog market is healthy and general business is good which means a good demand for products. Light weight hogs and pigs should be fed out until they attain a better weight."

In an interview at Nashville, Democratic Chairman Cordell Hull predicted a certain national Democratic victory two years hence. "All over the country the party is harmonious, militant and confident as a result of recent elections and will win a great victory in the nation next time," he said. He declined to discuss the Democratic situation with reference to the selection of a candidate for the presidency.

While the list in both instances is expected to be increased materially, aspirants for the speakerships of both houses of the legislature have announced as follows: For the senate, Eugene Byran of Chattanooga and J. T. Durham of Gallatin; for the house, Sam R. Bratton of Union City, Frank Hall of Dickson and George Walter Haynes of Winchester. S. E. Hunt of Dickson and George P. Woolen of Dyersburg have announced for comptroller, and Hill McAllister of Nashville, for reelection as treasurer. W. M. Carter of Lewisburg and Banks

Children's Thanksgiving Lesson

BY MARY COLLINS TERRY

As Thanksgiving is here, it behooves us to think about our children. Shall we let them look forward to that day as one in which physical and social indulgence alone will be the outstanding feature—a big dinner, lots of fun and company, or shall we make an effort to instill in them gratitude, a real thankfulness for the things which come to them day by day? A child is not a grateful little animal by nature, and the mother, must by untiring guidance and care from the virtue in him if she would have him to be a happy member of society.

"Muvver, where milk tum from?" ask three year old Danny, stopping in the midst of his cooling drink on a warm August day. "Why, Mrs. Moore's black and white cow gave you the milk, dear. You remember we watched her going down the road last night. Tom brought the milk over and put it on our porch."

"What do you say to him for bringing you milk?"

"'Tank you," said Danny triumphantly.

"And what shall we say to the good old cow?"

"'Tank you." He waved happily in the direction of the Moore's barn and lane where he had spent many blissful evenings watching Tom drive in the cows.

Little by little our children can be led in this simple way to see the chain of workers behind the food they eat, the clothes they wear, and in fact any and all their material blessings.

It is only one step more to the loving Father who gives the rain and sun, who causes all growth, to whom our gratitude must go out for His care.

Let Thanksgiving day, then, be a day when our children remember in thought all those who have helped in gathering together a fine dinner for the day, and further still express this gratitude. No virtue is worthy if not outwardly expressed.

Perhaps there is a needy family who will not have so much for Thanksgiving day, and the children can help pack a basket and deliver it to them. The mother can sum up her little lessons and say, "So many people have helped us to have Thanksgiving dinner, now we must help someone to have one." Thus she will turn the little one's spoken gratitude into service.

"Tom has brought our milk every day, let us save this big red apple to give him to show how thankful we are."

Thanksgiving is a fitting preparation for the beautiful festival day which follows so soon, Christmas. It is when a child truly feels and expresses gratitude that he in turn is ready to give and do for others. "LOVING AND GIVING"—will make sunshine in our world. God so loved—That He gave."

Tribute To H. T. Gentry.

Brother Hicky T. Gentry was born in the year of 1875 in Jackson County. He obeyed the Gospel during the year of 1900. He belonged to the church on Morison creek. In this congregation of Christians, he worshiped and worked until the end came. He was married on Jan. 4, 1894, to Miss Harriet Loftis, a daughter of G. R. Loftis, who resides in Okla. To this union eight children were born, five boys and three girls, all living but one boy.

Brother Gentry departed this life Oct. 12, 1922, after an illness of only a few weeks. In his death the local church lost one of its best, loyal, and dependable members, a member not only in name, but in the life. He lived. Sister Gentry, his wife, has lost one who is nearest and dearest to her in this world. The children has lost a father, who was their best friend.

He often called his boys up before they would leave their home for a visit. He would warn them of the many temptations that is so common in the land today. O! children, may those lessons and advice, that your good father give you, be not forgotten, but put into your lives, that will help you to overcome the temptation that maybe thrown around you, and that you may not worry that christian mother of yours in these sad days.

Dear Hicky is gone and dark is the cloud that hangs over his home now, and over the hearts of his father, mother and those who are so near and dear to him. Yet, we sorrow not as those that have no hope (Thes. 4: 13.) Funeral was conducted by John W. Fox, after which we laid his body to rest in the family grave yard near the home. May God help and comfort the bereaved ones. May we live such lives that there may be a happy reunion in the land where parting will be no more.

"How did you like the girl I dug up for you?" asked a Gainesboro boy of a visiting boy.

"As far as was concerned you could have left her buried," was the reply.

A Jackson County school teacher received the following note:

"Dear Madam, please excuse my Willie today he wont come to school because he is acting as time-keeper for his father and it is your fault. You gave him an example if a field is 5 miles around how long will it take a man walking 3 1-2 miles per miles per hour to walk 2 1-2 times around it? Willie ain't a man so his father will walk around the field and Willie will time him; but please don't give my boy such examples again because my husband must work every day to support his family."
